INTRODUCTION.

The Compiler presents with this volume the twenty-first of the series, which he thinks is fully as interesting as any of those that have preceded it. The matter herein presented deals only with the deaths taken from the issues of the Rhode Island American, continued from last volume from B to the end of the letter S.

Again we are thankful to the General Assembly for their public courtesy towards us in this publication.

We have before expressed our appreciation and thankfulness to our friends who have spoken kindly of our work and again we repeat that it gives us renewed strength and energy to continue in the line of historical investigation to which we have devoted the best part of our life. Our prayer is, may we continue to merit this confidence and good will.

In reading our notes the reader will please bear in mind that if the Death is preceded by the name of the paper it means that the death is announced in that issue as having taken place previously, but if the item does not carry this “American of” before it, it means that the date given is the date of death.

We close by fondly trusting that our readers will find their usual pleasure in perusing this, our latest volume.

DEATHS
THE RHODE ISLAND AMERICAN

The first number of the Rhode Island American was issued Friday, October 21, 1808, by Dunham and Hawkins, William W. Dunham, editor, and David Hawkins, Jr. It was printed at the sign of the American Eagle, opposite the market. Terms three dollars per year, half in advance.

The editorial announcement in the first number stated probably as the reason for establishing the paper that the "pressing necessity of the present period which was to decide whether the politics of Washington shall once more regain their proper influence in the hearts of his countrymen demands correspondent exertion."

October 5th, 1825, a consolidation was effected between the Gazette and the American. The firm of Brown and Carlisle was formed (Hugh H. Brown and Francis T. Carlisle) and conducted the printing on the north side of Market Square. William S. Patten was editor for one year when he was succeeded by Christopher E. Robbins.

In March, 1827, Mr. Carlisle bought out his partner and employed Benjamin F. Hurt as editor. In the July following the Microcosm, a weekly paper, established June 10, 1825, by Walter R. Danforth, was absorbed by the American. Two years later (July, 1829) the Cadet and Statesman also taken inug. The title was changed to that of the RHODE ISLAND AMERICAN STATESMAN AND GAZETTE. The Cadet and Statesman was founded as the Literary Cadet and Saturday Evening Bulletin. It was published by Smith and Parminter (Samuel J. Smith, Jonathan C. Parminter); Sylvester S. Southworth was editor. It was a weekly until July, 1828, and then semi-weekly until its absorption. The last number was issued Friday, Feb. 1, 1833. Saturday, Feb. 9, it was continued under the title of MICRO COSM AMERICAN AND GAZETTE until its final discontinuance March 29, 1834. Daniel Mowry, 3d, was proprietor of these last consolidation papers. April 9, 1833, he sold out to James S. Hamm & Co. (Joseph Knowles the Co.), who owned it at its final discontinuance. The paper obtained a high position in the community and had among its writers the best talent of the State. William Goddard was editor when it was at its best.
